Description:

The Law in Practice casebook is the primary text for a turnkey lawyering skills course that has proven to be successful for first and second-year law students. The casebook and the accompanying simulation materials integrate legal analysis and skills training all into one course. Through the use of the casebook, four professionally produced videos, and extensive case file materials, students learn practice-ready skills in simulated client and witness interviews, depositions, client counseling sessions and chambers conference or mediation sessions. Detailed faculty materials are also provided for the course.
